The guitars I use are built by Davide Serracini, except the special guitar that has just been modified by it. You can still play this piece using a simple 6-string guitar equipped with 6-string high pitch, instead of the special guitar. It is enough to remove the few pieces reproduced in the added strings and reproduce the similar sections present in the tab. The Capos I use in the video are: Spidercapo and Jim Dunlop Trigger Capo. To play this song, you need to prepare the capos in a specific way. First of all, put a spider cap on the first fret of your guitar and lock the third string. Attach a Jim Dunlop trigger capo on Spidercapo, but before doing so, cut off the rubber part so that the capo does not lock the second string and the third sequence. Finally, put the first three strings of the third fret another Jim Dunlop trigger Capo and again, before doing so, cut the rubber part so that it does not lock the 1st rope. To prepare the special guitar, place a Jim Dunlop trigger cap on the 7th fret. Then add a spider cap on the 9th fret and lock the second string. Finally, add another spider capo on the 12th fret and lock the second string. To fix the special guitar on a music stand, you can simply use a belt that passes under the strings.
